What is the OCC’s Web and telephone seminar?

This 90-minute Web and telephone seminar allows an unlimited number of people to listen to Office of the Comptroller of the Currency’s (OCC) experts and industry professionals talk about their experiences and policy imperatives. You can listen over individual telephones or discuss with colleagues on speakerphones. The experts’ interaction with you, the listener, will make the program a valuable learning experience. And you can ask questions from wherever you are, online or on the telephone. There is no rush-hour traffic, no parking, and no travel time or expenses. You can remain in the office and share information with a large group of colleagues. A moderator guides the presentation and the open forum. Accessing the automated slide show is as easy as clicking on a Web link.

Participants will learn about …

- SBICs and how they work
- the benefits to banks
- how to invest in SBICs
- how one bank decided to invest in SBICs

This Web and telephone seminar will help you …

- determine if investing in SBICs is right for your bank
- learn about key risks and regulatory considerations
- learn about Community Reinvestment Act consideration for SBIC investments

Investments in Small Business Investment Companies (SBIC) provide banks with opportunities to realize good investment returns, create jobs, and receive positive Community Reinvestment Act consideration. At this Web and telephone seminar, you will hear directly from officials from the Small Business Administration, SBICs, banks, and the OCC on how this program works, how to participate, and how it may fit your bank’s investment portfolio.
